

Diane M. von Arx

lettering@dianevonarx.com

www.dianevonarx.com

She is a letter-maker and designer, producing expressive lettering, developing Corporate Marks and creating unique resolutions & documents of recognition. She began her career working for eight years in a package design studio in Minneapolis. She maintained her freelance business there for over 35 years. Diane has taught calligraphy and lettering related design classes in Minnesota since 1973. She has offered workshops and lectures throughout the U.S. and in Canada, Japan and Australia and in 2019 she gave workshops for the Schreibwerstadt Klingspor in Germany and presented a lecture and workshops for the European Lettering Institute in Brugge. Her work is published in many calligraphic journals and in the 22nd and 23rd Editions of the Speedball Textbook. She has original calligraphic work in many public and private collections. Diane was part of the international team of artists invited to help create The Saint Johns Bible and was responsible for the design, lettering and illumination of The Book of Honor, the donor volume for TSJB.

For examples of her work see www.dianevonarx.com